

Better Signed Than Sorry!

If your unsigned Visa card falls into the wrong hands, anyone can use your account.

When you present a signed card for payment, a merchant can verify your identity as the rightful Visa cardholder by comparing your signature on the sales draft to the signature on the card.

If the card is not signed, the merchant must:

- Ask you for some form of positive ID.
- Make sure the card is signed before completing the sale.
- Compare the signature on the ID to the signatures on the card and sales draft.
